The Connecticut comments.

In addition to the big Keith vaude-ville act, "California," now appearing at this theatre, there will be a com-plete change of photo-plays today, and the feature is a thrilling western dra-ma produced by the Broncho com-pany, called Cash Parrish's Pal, star-ring the great western actor. William pany, called Cash Parrish's Pal, star-ring the great western actor, William S. Hart, who is a popular favorite with every picture fan in the country. Wil-liam S. Hart plays the part of Cash Parrish, a bandit, who is betrayed to the sheriff by his pal, Jud Ross, who covets Parrish's treasure and his wife. Cash however makes his getaway and is pursued by the posse. Meanwhile, Jud has gone to the cabin of Parrish, tries to make love to Cash's wife. tries to make love to Cash's wife, who protests. During a struggle she kills him in self defence. There are many other thrilling scenes in this picture and everyone will enjoy seeing it, as the daring bandit Mr. Hart plays the part to perfection. Another feature on today's bill is the seventh chapter of The Diamond From the Sky, with Lottle Pickford and Irving Cummings playing the leads. This great serial is growing more popular every week, and this chapter is conceded to be one of the best yet shown. The Keystone comedy is called Peanuts and Bullets, and it is some County in the series of the ser and it is some funny picture. If you want to enjoy a good laugh don't miss this one. Today will be the last chance to see "California," the big singing act that has delighted large audiences the past two days, and it will be replaced by another big timer for the last half in Paul Petching and Company, presenting the Musical Flower Garden, one of the best novelty musical acts on the varideville. elty musical acts on the vandeville stage today. Matinee daily at 2.30, at #sats 10 cents, children 5 cents.

"SOME BABY!"

Is Some Show-With Some Cast. "Some Baby!" is the alluring title or a most alluring farce that will be seen at the Davis Theatre, Thursday even-ing, Aug. 12th., immediately preceeding. Aug. 12th., immediately preceeding what promises to be a long run at the Fulton Theatre, New York City "Some Baby!" which will be presented by the Henry B. Harris estate, is in three acts that are brim full of laughter brought about by the most ingenious of situations. It deals with the belief on the part of a delightful old scientist that he has really produced an Elixir of Youth, as the result of his years of work in the labosult of his years of work in the labo-ratory—a belief that is most natural in view of the remarkable events that in view of the remarkable events that occur immediately upon the application of the liquid by two of the characters. Although elated at the supposed success of his scientific labors, the apparently appealing situations that ensue drive the Professor and his young assistant almost to desperation, while the audience will be sure to be driven into gales of laughter over the indicrous complications. Throughout this ingenious plot are woven two delightful romances and this dramatic Elixir is composed equally of love and laughter, spiced with a tinge of danger, and making altogether a most selaughter, spiced with a tinge of danger, and making altogether a most seductive potion. "Some Baby!" is by Zeliar Covington and Jules Simonson, revised and staged by Percival Knight and it will be interpreted by a brilliant cast including Frank Lalor. Seats are now selling. Prices 25c, 35c, 50c, 75c, $1.00 and $1.50 Note—This is the same company and production which is to play at the Fulton Theatre, in New York next week and will stay there for an indefinite run, So don't miss this opportunity of seeing a New York production with a New York cast, without having to travel to New York.

COLONIAL THEATRE.

"In the Dark," Mammoth Three-reel Lubin Feature, Dramatic Event.

One of the most bewildering mystery dramas of the program for today is entitled "In the Dark," a three-reel masterplecs by the big Lubin feature cast headed by Joseph Kaufmann and Ethel Clayton. It is a story of an ambitious artist and his fascinating wife. A third party in the form of a polished villain, figures in the case, and so thoroughly disarranges the domestic schedule of two happy families that a train of unhappy incidents follow him even to last of the third reel. The picture is very thrilling, and is especially picturesque as it includes some Bohemian functions in the big artists colony in a metropolitan city. Lillian Walker and Evart Overton appear in the Vitagraph offering "Physing the Game," a two-reel feature in which two young people imagine each other, whom they have never seen to which two young people imagine each other, whom they have never seen, to be distinctly rural, and are disposed because of this to dislike the matribecause of this to dislike the matrimonial arrangement by the fathers, to play the game according to their beliefs, and appear in Rube costumes.
Later they discover that each is fakling and a happy ending of the romance takes place. The Road O'Strife
No. 9, is the event called "The Iron Hand of Law," and we shall see what becomes of pretty Alene, alone, and bewildered in the big city.

The story of Cinderella is too well known to require a lengthy descrip-tion, but all the familiar beauties of the tale are enhanced in the photoproduction, with many added odd touches, pathetic, romantic and hu-morous. The haughty sisters will be seen in al their conceit and grotesque ugliness, the cruel and patrician step-mother, who is all sweetness to her own daughters, and all unkindness to Cinderella; the handsome Prince who wins the cinder-girl's heart, and loses wins the cinder-girl's heart, and loses his own to her, in the forest, where he first meets her, staggering under a load of faggots, and who ever after dreams of her as the Princess of his soul and throne, which she afterwards becomes in reality. There are elves, goblins, witches and fairles apienty throughout the production, but the greatest character of all is Cinderella herself, clothed with all the toucher. herself, clothed with all the tender sweetness and picturesque beauty for which the genuine artist who plays her, Little Mary, is world-famed. I REMEMBER, I REMEMBER. I remember, I remember,
The house where I was down;
The little window where the sun
Came paeping in at morn.
You'd hardly know the old piace now,
For dad is up to date,
And the farm is scientific,
From the back lot to the gate, TENEMENT to let in the large house formerly occupied by the late Charles William Low, Danielson, Conn. Inquire at the house, or of Mary E. Low, Dan-ielson, Conn.

POETRY

The house and barn are lighted
With bright acetylene,
The engine in the laundry
Is run by gasoline.
We have silos, we have autos,
We have the dynamos and things;
A telephone for gossip,
And a phonograph that sings.

The bired man has left us,
We miss his homely face;
A lot of college graduates
Are working in his place.
There's an engineer and fireman,
A chaufeur and a vot,
'Lectrician and mechanic—
Oh, the farm's run right, you

Out cattle came from Jersey,
And the hogs are all Duroc.
The sheep are Southdown beauties,
And the heps are Plymouth Rock.
To have the best of everything—
That is our aim and plan—
For dad not only farms it,
But he's a business man.
